OUR STREET RAILROADS.

SENATOR VEST SAYS HORSE LINES ARE A DISGRACE.

And He Wants Either Cable or Electric Power—Important Bills of Local Interest in Congress—Other Matters Considered.

The Senate to-day briefly considered Senate bill 1170, to incorporate the Washington and Highlands Street Railway Company, on the Bladensburg road. It provides for using steam or horses. Senator Vest opposed these methods and said he would not vote for street road charters which use either horses or steam. He said the horse lines were a disgrace. He favored either cable or electric roads. He proposed to amend the bill accordingly. The bill finally went over without action.

On motion of Senator Harris it was agreed that when the Senate adjourn to-day it be until Monday next.

Public building bills were passed as follows: Sterling, Ill., $50,000; Oakland, Cal., $40,000; Cayenne, W. I., $150,000; Chester, Pa., $100,000; Helena, Mont., $40,000.

The bill appropriating $500,000 for a building at Salt Lake City was debated at some length. Mr. Plumb asking that the appropriation be cut down to $400,000. At 2 o'clock discussion of the Educational bill was resumed.

In the House. In the House to-day Mr. Haugen of Wisconsin, from the Committee on Elections, reported the unanimous resolution of the committee in the contested election case of Throat vs. Clark, from Alabama, that Clark, the sitting member, was entitled to retain his seat, and it was adopted.

The Senate bill increasing the limit of cost of public buildings at El Paso, Texas, from $150,000 to $200,000 was passed.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the private calendar.

Next Week's Contested Cases. Chairman Rowell of the House Elections Committee said this morning that the next contested case which would be brought before the House was the Mudd-Compton contest from the Fifth Maryland District. The precise day on which it will be called upon is not yet determined.

On next Tuesday the committee will hear the arguments in the Langston-Venable case, from the Fourth Virginia District. This is General Mahone's case, and at the last election he was opposed to Mr. Langston's candidacy, and forced the regular Republican convention to nominate Judge R. W. Arnold. Langston thereupon was an independent Republican candidate. The official figures, upon which the certificate of election was issued, were as follows: Venable (Democrat), 12,299; Langston, 12,657; Arnold, 3,207.

The District in Congress. The Senate District Committee, at its regular meeting to-day, ordered an adverse report on Senate bill 1145, introduced by Mr. Spooner, in relation to the rights and liabilities of married women, and on bill 1146, also introduced by Mr. Spooner, making a judgment a lien on all real estate or interest therein of the debtor in the District of Columbia, and allowing the same to be sold under execution.

Senate bill 1556, introduced by Mr. Merrill, for the promotion of anatomical science and to prevent the desecration of graves in the District of Columbia, was ordered reported with amendments. Bill 1560, for the relief of James W. Walsh was ordered reported with amendments. Bill 2390, to incorporate the Cable Railway Company, was referred to Senators McMillan and Chandler as a sub-committee.

The House District Committee considered the Rock Creek Park bill exclusively at its meeting to-day. No conclusion was reached. The bill is made special order for next Wednesday.

Some of the members, and all the members if they can, will visit the site of the park to-morrow.

Senator Dolph's Resolution. Mr. Dolph has called a meeting of his committee engaged in investigating the case of the Government postal telegraph system. The knights of Labor said, believed the Government alone should own and operate the telegraph. He was opposed to Postmaster-General Wamamaker's place. He said that Dr. Green had received 30 per cent of the income of the Western Union was from stock gambling and baseball. His argument was a strong one from his standpoint.

Postoffice Employees. Before the House Committee on Post-offices and Post Roads this morning Representative T. J. Campbell of New York and Representative Quinn of New York, and Mr. Wilson, a former clerk in the New York Postoffice. These gentlemen advocated a bill regulating the hours of postoffice employees and giving them an annual leave of absence.

World's Fair. The Sub-committee of the House World's Fair Committee had a meeting this morning. A delegation composed of prominent Chicago citizens addressed the committee. They exhibited their list of guarantors of the $5,000,000 fund and said they would raise $1,000,000.

They stood ready to hold the fair in 1892 if Congress so desired. Or they were willing it should be postponed to 1893.

Harley Dabry's Trial. Efforts being made to prove his mental irresponsibility.

With the testimony of the postmaster at Harper's Ferry who mailed the letter to the United States Treasurer from which Harry Darby took the $70, the Government concluded their case yesterday.

The defense opened the case by introducing testimony to show that for years Darby had been afflicted with a complication of diseases and was virtually a physical wreck. In addition it was attempted to show that his mind was unbalanced and that he was not mentally responsible.

When the court opened this morning the defense took up the same line of argument as that which was started with yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Maywell, an intimate friend of Mr. Darby's family, was on the stand for nearly an hour and made a good witness. She tried to convey the impression that Mr. Darby, owing to a complication of diseases, was of impaired mind, and had been so for some years.

She had noticed this in the family circle, and more particularly in his church connections. He was, she said, an ardent and an active member of the church, and she had noticed that he was more cordial and familiar with the members of the congregation than he ought to be.

Mr. Turner, a member of the church, testified to having met Harry Darby upon Seventh street on the 10th of July, 1888. He noticed that he was not in a rational frame of mind, and he told him that they would not allow him to go to work at the Department. He looked wild and restless and the witness said that he advised him to go home. Mr. Turner said he did not know whether he was of unstable mind. Henry W. Herold, also a member of Hamilton Church, gave evidence of a similar nature.

Several neighbors of the defendant were on the stand this afternoon who claimed that they had noticed his eccentricities.

Dr. Adams, the family physician of the Darbys, stated that defendant had a tendency to fly from one subject to another, and he was satisfied that he was insane.

A question as to the admission of a hypothetical question is being argued by counsel.

ACCUSED OF HORSE-STEALING. Young Charley Rhodes, Horse Seized on the Avenue.

Young Charley Rhodes was driving a pair of spirited sorrel horses down the Avenue this afternoon about 1 o'clock, and when near the intersection of Fourth and a-half street an old gentleman grabbed the animals and called for a policeman. He insisted that the horses and the buggy to which they were attached, had been stolen from his farm, and the police officer was inclined to believe his story.

"I own the horses," said the young man, "and can prove it." At the last the police officer, who was with him, told him to open his barn and took them out, and I don't propose to have you flying high around town with my horses.

"No, officer, will you please hold this team for a minute and I will produce a bill of sale for them."

In less than five minutes the bill was produced and read in the presence of a crowd that blocked the north side of the Avenue.

"Oh! I had forgotten that I gave that," said the old gentleman, who was none other than J. D. Rhodes, the young man's father.

The police team off without further interruption.

MR. TAUBER'S CONDITION. Dr. Bayne Thinks the Outlook is Not Altogether Hopeless.

Dr. J. W. Bayne, the physician in charge of Mr. Taubert's case, made the following statement at 11:30 this morning:

"There is no material change in Mr. Taubert's condition since yesterday. His temperature is 102 degrees and his pulse and respiration are normal; but he is delirious all the time. The outlook is unfavorable, but not altogether hopeless."

Kineald is under surveillance. He will not be arrested until Taubert's case terminates finally, when he will give himself up.
